

Chapeltraid

Chapeltraid is our fair-trade initiative and has been an important expression of our Christian faith here at Blairdaff and Chapel of Garioch Church for many years.

We have been a Fairtrade Church since March 2010, that means that we have committed to use Fairtrade tea and coffee for all meetings for which we have responsibility, to use other Fairtrade products as much as we can, and to promote Fairtrade wherever possible. Our Fairtrade products are largely sourced from Traidcraft.

What is the point ? To help producers get a fair price for their produce. That enables producers in some of the poorest parts of the world to make their own decisions, to feed, clothe and give their children an education, control their future and lead the dignified life everyone deserves.

Fairtrade also works with producers to provide safe working environments, ensure local sustainability and care for the natural world.

Jesus taught and showed us that we should love one another. Trading fairly is a way for us to show his love. It's a way to live what we believe. By choosing fairly traded products we can make a difference and transform lives and communities across the world. What better reason could there be!

How can I find out more?

Karen Noble now manages Chapeltraid. Should you wish more information or wish to get involved she would be delighted to help. Contact Karen on 01467 651547.

More information about Fairtrade can be found at <https://www.fairtrade.org.uk/> and Traidcraft at www.traidcraft.co.uk

